DETAILED ACTION

Priority

This nonprovisional application claims priority to Provisional application No. 60/492,869, which was filed in Japanese on 6 August 2003.

If the prior-filed provisional application was filed in a language other than English, an English-language translation of the prior-filed provisional application and a statement that the translation is accurate, must be filed in the prior-filed provisional application or the later-filed nonprovisional application. In a pending nonprovisional application, failure to timely reply to such a notice will result in abandonment of the application. 37 CFR § 1.78(a)(5)(iv).

The English-language translation and statement are not found in the record of the provisional or nonprovisional applications. Applicant must supply the missing translation and statement in the reply to this Office action prior to the expiration of the time period set in this Office action.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant is thanked for correcting the typo in the restriction requirement mailed 30 June 2006 (replacement of the restriction requirement mailed 12 April 2006). It is confirmed that “Species G” should have been “Species A” at page 4, line 5.

Applicant disagrees with the characterization of generic claims. An argument is made concerning impermissibly narrowing the scope of the claims. See Response, 12. The argument is unclear. Applicant was telephoned for further explanation but could not be reached.

Claims 1-8, 13-17, 19 and 20 recite “the first value and the second value are variable and set according to a physical characteristic of the media, a physical characteristic of a toner to be applied to the media, and an environmental condition.” This limitation is disclose only as part of power control. See p. 21, [0070]. No embodiment disclosed combines the elected species of frequency control with the above limitation. Therefore, claims 1-8, 13-17, 19 and 20 are withdrawn as being directed to a nonelected species.

Applicant is reminded that the recited Markush groups, containing both elected and nonelected species, will be examined only to the extent of the elected species. If the elected species is found to be allowable, the claims must be amended to recite only the elected species rather than elected and nonelected species in the alternative.

Specification

The specification uses the word “may” in 220 occurrences. The specification is objected to because the proliferation of the word “may” renders the disclosure vague and unclear.

The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). The following terms are not in the specification:

“third value” and “fourth value” (claims 22 and 24); and “media type datum” (claims 23).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 22 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The limitations “third value” and “fourth value” were not included in the claims as originally filed and are not discussed in the Specification. The terms are considered new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 21-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nagihara (US 6,492,630).

Nagihara discloses in figures 9 and 13 a first heating element (2), a second heating element (21), and a controller (9) capable of controlling them. The variable frequency power source (10) allows the controller to controller the frequency of the heating elements (2, 21) among first, second, third, and fourth values, having different magnitudes.

Regarding claims 23-25, temperature sensors (8, 11, 12) allow the control system (9, 10) to control the values according data from the temperature sensors (8, 11, 12). The control system also controls returning to standby. See fig. 20.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9-12 and 18 are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
